

SenSys 2017 Student Travel Grants

Sponsored by SIGMOBILE and the ACM SenSys sponsors

With the support from SIGMOBILE and the ACM SenSys sponsors, a limited number of student travel grants are available for students from non-US based institutions to attend ACM SenSys 2017. Women and minorities with interests in sensor networks research will receive the highest priority.

IMPORTANT DATES

Application deadline: September 27, 2017, 11:59pm Eastern Time

Notification of acceptance: October 1, 2017

ELIGIBILITY

The support is intended to partially cover the costs of attending the conference. The costs include conference registration, transportation, lodging, and meals. Students receiving travel awards may be expected to volunteer at SenSys 2015. Such volunteer tasks will not interfere with attendance at the conference sessions. Selection for the student travel grants will be in accordance with the following guidelines:

- The applicant must be a current student at an institution of higher education.
- The applicant's field of study must be related to SenSys topics.
- Priority will be given to female and under-represented students.
- Students from under-represented states and institutions are specifically encouraged to apply.
- Consideration will be given to other applicants falling outside the above categories, but they need to demonstrate a well-justified financial need.

HOW TO APPLY

The student applicant must fill up the application form here:

Successful applicants will receive an award letter by e-mail together with instructions on how to receive partial refunds, which will be issued to the person or institution that covered the expenses. Note that the student's advisor is expected to cover the remaining expenses for the travel if the budget does not completely cover it.
